The city centre is directly connected via a pedestrian and cycle bridge. The Royal Opera House is located on the neighbouring island.
Hotel	128 rooms in a new building complex, six of which have their own outdoor area. Natural colours and materials offer hotel guests a relaxed counterpoint to the hustle and bustle of the city. Just like the holiday home, which has been in the family for a long time, there are also all kinds of special features that have accumulated over the years.

Architecture & History

In the heart of Copenhagen lies a hidden gem with a history as rich and diverse as the city itself. For over 300 years, this island has served as the backdrop to a myriad of essential functions, from shipyards to wartime hospitals, cannon storage to paper warehouses. Its evolution has woven a tapestry of stories, earning it the affectionate moniker: Paper Island.

Once a well-kept secret, this industrial site, spanning 45,000 m², was reserved for paper storage for centuries. However, in a remarkable turn of events, it burst onto the scene as Denmark's fourth-most visited attraction practically overnight.

Now, it's not just another district; it's a hub of creativity and culture. From street food extravaganzas to captivating art exhibitions, Paper Island offers an immersive urban experience unlike any other.

COBE Architects - the brains behind the resurfacing of Paper Island - embarked on a journey to rebuild from the ground up while preserving the essence of what makes Paper Island so special. At its core, the new Paper Island is a celebration of reinvention - a testament to the power of transformation. While the buildings may be new, the spirit of the place remains unchanged.

Recently reopened to the public, Paper Island has quickly become a beloved spot for locals and visitors alike. What was once a closed-off enclave, passed between the hands of the state, navy, industry, and port, now pulses with life as a vibrant cultural hub and sought-after destination.

But the journey doesn't end here. Paper Island is poised for its next transformation, evolving into a dynamic new neighborhood boasting innovative architecture, a water culture center, culinary delights, residences, and unique cultural offerings - as well as the internationally acclaimed 25hours Hotel brand's latest addition to their portfolio. All of this set against the backdrop of a new waterfront promenade teeming with recreational activities.

While the sister property 25hours Hotel Indre By caters to the bustling pulse of business travelers, 25hours Hotel Paper Island beckons those seeking respite from the urban clamor. Situated on the opposite side of the harbor amidst residential enclaves, this oasis offers a quieter, more leisurely escape. With convenient ferry access, guests are seamlessly transported to a realm where time slows, and every moment is savored.

Bruno Marti, Executive VP of Brand Marketing emphasizes: "The 25hours Hotel Indre By stands out as a hyper-central, tourist-friendly hub, bustling with activity. In contrast, our vision for the 25hours Hotel Paper Island is to create a tranquil retreat on the quieter side of the harbor. With less traffic and more residential surroundings, we aim to attract leisure guests seeking a serene escape. But we're also a democratic hotel - and we are open to everybody that is open to us," echoing the brand's unwavering commitment to democratic hospitality.

Interior & Story

Visitors to 25hours Hotel Paper Island can embark on a journey of whimsy and wonder as 25hours Hotels proudly presents the debut of 25hours Hotel Paper Island, Copenhagen's latest gem in the crown of hospitality. Nestled amidst the vibrant pulse of the city, this enchanting hotel promises an escape like no other, where Nordic charm dances harmoniously with modern allure.

But what's the secret behind this Scandi paradise in the midst of Copenhagen? Well, nothing other than the actual plot of land the hotel resides on; Paper Island. Despite its name, this isn't a typical island, but more a waterfront that oozes vacation vibes. And that's exactly what inspired the design behind the hotel.

The hotel channels the laid-back essence of Scandinavian summerhouses. Picture light hues, wooden accents, and 128 rooms that radiate cosy elegance. It is as if guests are stepping into their own private sanctuary.

Once guests walk through those doors and enter 25hours Hotel Paper Island, they are not just checking into any hotel. They are embarking on a journey to a Scandinavian dreamland where relaxation reigns supreme.

Gothenburg based interior design firm 'Stylt Trampoli' were the visionary brains behind the captivating interiors of 25hours Hotel Paper Island. With a mischievous aesthetic, the firm shares their passion for design with the 25hours DNA, and merges it into a symbiotic storytelling that reflects on the idea of the idyllic summer house - set in the scene of the city center.

The interior design firm imbues each space with understated luxury, blending organic elements with a nod to generations past. The result is an inviting tapestry of warmth and comfort, where every corner whispers tales of bygone eras.

Details such as the fact that each hotel room number has its own unique visual expression, ensures that the visitor gets a treat for the eyes as well as gets to explore their playful, childlike side when they walk to their room throughout the hallways on each floor.

With its blend of Nordic charm and contemporary allure, 25hours Hotel Paper Island invites guests to embark on a journey of discovery. "We've woven a tale of comfort and innovation, drawing inspiration from the Scandinavian Summer house and infusing it with a touch of contemporary flair," says Anneli Soumalainen, project manager for Stylt Trampoli. "Step into the lobby, where the spirit of adventure beckons. Rustic metals and brick floors evoke the nostalgia of a bustling harbor, setting the stage for an unforgettable stay. Picture stepping off a boat onto the docks of Copenhagen, greeted by the warmth of Danish hospitality. That's the feeling we've captured here."

Each one of the 128 rooms is a sanctuary of style, meticulously curated to delight the senses. From handcrafted furnishings to recycled materials given new life, every detail tells a story. It's about creating spaces that feel like home, yet inspire curiosity and exploration.

It's about making memories that linger long after checkout."

Art & Design

As Copenhagen eagerly anticipates the unveiling of 25hours Hotel Paper Island, the excitement reaches a crescendo as the hotel's art and design elements come into focus. Nestled amidst the serene waters of Paper Island, the hotel seamlessly blends contemporary aesthetics with timeless elegance, offering a visual feast for the senses.

Collaborating once again with the esteemed design firm Stylt Trampoli, renowned for their work on the Düsseldorf hotel 25hours Hotel Das Tour, 25hours Hotel Paper Island embarks on a journey of artistic exploration and innovation. Embracing a philosophy of reimagined luxury, the design ethos embraces an eclectic mix of antiques and flea market finds, including 'boat cemetery' treasures, to create spaces rich with stories. In Lobster Lounge – one of the meeting rooms accessible from the lobby, fishing gear and equipment - both antique and functional - enhance the maritime atmosphere, with fishing rods available for guests to use during their stay.

The design narrative at 25hours Hotel Paper Island strikes a delicate balance between the quirky and sublime, offering guests a visual feast that transcends conventional boundaries. Drawing inspiration from the warmth and comfort of a cherished summer house, the interiors exude an organic feel, reminiscent of generations past.

As guests journey through the corridors, they are transported to a world where the boundaries between indoors and outdoors blur seamlessly. An inviting lobby adorned with plush furnishings and maritime-inspired artwork offers a cozy retreat, reminiscent of lazy summer days spent by the water. Danish nautical charts, comic books, games, and puzzles also contribute to the nostalgic ambiance, weaving a playful yet sophisticated tapestry throughout the hotel.

From the moment guests step foot into the lobby, they are greeted by a symphony of maritime motifs and coastal hues, evoking the serene beauty of the Northern seas. Weathered wood and reclaimed materials whisper tales of voyages past, while whimsical accents pay homage to the maritime heritage of Copenhagen. Unique flea market finds from both Sweden and Denmark - such as a life jacket made of wine corks, an old vintage boat motor, and rope artwork by Swedish artist Nina Naess - grace the hotel, infusing the space with a sense of history and character.

From captivating art installations as well as the intriguing 25hours things shop that adorns the lobby to bespoke furnishings creating a sense of comfort and sophistication, every element is meticulously curated to evoke a sense of wonder and delight. The shop, embracing the feel of an overstuffed country store on an island, features custom-made tin cans by Stylt Trampoli, ensuring guests find everything they need - and a few unexpected treasures. Elevating the guest experience to new heights, the hotel embraces the ethos of inclusivity, inviting guests to immerse themselves in a world of curated experiences.

Murals commissioned by two talented Danish artists enhance key areas within the hotel. At the restaurant Tiger Lily, Andreas Welin's mural of a tiger entwined with lilies creates a striking visual centerpiece. Meanwhile, MP Auer's mural at Nomad Day Bar evokes the relaxed ambiance of a summer house, with vibes that reflect the tranquility and warmth of the space. Positioned just by the bar, the mural is visible from all angles, enriching the guest experience with its inviting presence.

come as you are.

In the guest rooms, the Scandinavian summer house experience comes to life with handcrafted furnishings, unique wallpapers, and panoramic views of the harbor. Traditional old wood paneling, stick-back chairs, and dressers inspired by old summer cottages create a charming, nostalgic ambiance. Soft hues of yellow, blue, and white create a tranquil oasis, inviting guests to unwind and recharge amidst the gentle embrace of the sea breeze. Picture walls in each room combine posters, old family photos, and works by contemporary Danish artists, as well as posters from Louisiana Museum of Modern Art, evoking "summer memories" like a collage. Danish stamps and nautical charts further decorate the rooms, adding a touch of local charm and history. Guests can sit on the windowsill and daydream, while rag rugs outside the rooms in the hallways complete the cozy, homey feel.

At its core, 25hours Hotel Paper Island celebrates the beauty of individuality, where art and design converge to create a sanctuary as unique as the guests who inhabit it. With its eclectic mix of styles, textures, and colors, the hotel becomes a testament to the power of creativity and imagination, inspiring all who enter to embrace their own unique expression.
