Location	25hours Hotel The Olympia is nestled in the vibrant inner-city suburb of Paddington, just 3 km from Sydney's CBD. Known for its Victorian terrace housing, leafy streets and bohemian, artistic atmosphere, Paddington offers a mix of stylish boutiques, art galleries, cosy cafes and restaurants. It is a great area to explore on foot, with Centennial Park nearby and the famed Paddington markets held every Saturday. For those that want to venture into Sydney's CBD, the hotel is a leisurely 20-minute walk or 10 minutes by car. It is also conveniently located close to the major sporting hub of Allianz Stadium and the Sydney Cricket Ground. The Southern parts of the Central Business District can be reached on foot, and, as a special treat, there is a direct bus to Bondi Beach on the doorstep.
Hotel	The 25hours Hotel The Olympia, will be Australia's first 25hours Hotel and Sydney's newest boutique hotel. 25hours Hotel The Olympia is for dreamers and renegades, a place for cinema lovers where the aesthetic of the hotel plays tribute to the building's art house beginning as the Olympia Theatre. The hotel will have 109 guest rooms, including three themed concept suites. The rooms in the design 'Renegade' and 'Dreamer' are a nod to the original protagonists in every movie. They reflect the classic characters that often drive the plot forwards. The 'Renegade' is the runaway and adventurer who breaks away from normal life, while the 'Dreamer' refers to the romantic who strives for an ideal and often unattainable world. Each room will also have exclusive artwork by Sydney artist Kubi Vasak. The stand-out for the hotel will be its four food & beverage outlets. On the ground floor guests can enjoy Jacob the Angel, an English coffee house and bakery. The Palomar Restaurant and Mulwray is a chic cocktail and wine bar. A highlight for any visit to the hotel will be Monica, a roof-top bar with inspiring views of Sydney. The hotel will also feature two meeting rooms. The largest catering for up to 150 people.
